

Edna Kleen Reigns Over Homecoming

Greeting from Governor Wilson

The following greeting was received by President Braulick from Governor Geo. A. Wilson on the occasion of the Wartburg College Diamond Jubilee:

Dear Doctor Braulick:

"My sincere congratulations to you and your associates on the Diamond Jubilee of Wartburg College. May you go on to complete the full century of service in the cause of higher education and community leadership. The seventy-five years of your college history cover the period of Iowa's greatest growth and expansion—the building of the railroads and later the paved highways, the planning and the settlement of the thousand cities and towns, the conquest of the virgin soil and development of farms, and the final organization of our society around the homes and the firesides.

"But by the side of this material progress there was always the important task of completing the work of the pioneer schoolmasters and missionaries. The churches and the schools have grown side by side. The church life is on a high plane of education and the school system has been closely coordinated with the spiritual influences. Iowa citizenship reflects the influence of church and school.

"I regret that previous engagements make it impossible for me to accept your kind invitation to come with you on this happy occasion. I am sure that Wartburg college will enter now upon a still larger field of activity and go on to greater victories. There is work for all of us in the pursuit of our way of life. Keep the classes going. Hold aloft the banners of the free.

Sincerely,
(Signed) GEO. A. WILSON."

HER MAJESTY, THE QUEEN

Edna Kleen, junior from Waterloo, Iowa, was elected by the student body to reign over the homecoming festivities of Wartburg's Diamond Jubilee year.

Coronation Touches Off Four-Day Celebration

Edna Kleen, junior from Waterloo, Iowa, reigns as queen over Wartburg's Diamond Jubilee homecoming celebration. She received her crown Thursday evening in St. Paul's auditorium from the hands of Fred Scherle, captain of the football team, since last year's queen was unable to be present. A stirring measure of triumphs heralded the queen as she entered the spacious auditorium and officially opened the four-day festivities.

"OP'RY HOUSE" IS BIG SUCCESS

Gay Nineties Theme Carried Out in Second Annual Talent Show.

One of the first homecoming activities of the Diamond Jubilee year, the "Op'ry House" talent show was presented in the St. Paul's parish hall auditorium on Thursday evening.

The musical show, "Dark Town Minstrel Show," was presented by the senior class and featured the singing of that tip-toeing Rastus Brown with his beautiful wife, Edna, and beauty, Ida. The W. A. A. skit portrayed the P. I. activities of the gay nineties including school, love, and money. Unfortunately, Daisy May was represented by the St. Paul's parish hall auditorium on Thursday evening.

The coronation ceremony, which her Majesty will reign will be the Knight-Squire football game this afternoon, the homecoming banquet this evening. Tomorrow, the queen will be crowned in the St. Paul's parish hall auditorium on Thursday evening. The queen will be crowned in the St. Paul's parish hall auditorium on Thursday evening.

COMEDY TO BE GIVEN NOV. 6

"The Curtain Rises," a romantic comedy by B. M. Kaye, and genuine hits, has been selected as the first dramatic production of the Wartburg Players under the direction of Miss Lucille Cyprien.

The action of the comedy transpires in the studio apartment of Ella Karing (Beth to Velve) in New York City. Ella has money, and independence. She is a girl, alas, alone! She realizes the risks, and finally decides that she will play what she wants—namely, romance.

She has a newspaper man bring the reigning maiden idol of Broadway, William Meisner (Roland Rosselle), to her studio and offers him a large sum of money to teach her to act. Her secret ambition is to play love scenes with him and this gets the curtain rising. The play is a comedy, William, a bit bored by the unattractive Ella, offers the services of his understudy, Frank Kernman (Harry Stief), until such time as Ella shall have attained an efficiency to merit his personal attention. Frank gets the job and Ella gets her instructions. And now there is a charm, a romance, a lifting of the curtain. This gay comedy that should bring a lifting of the curtain. This gay comedy that should bring a lifting of the curtain.

BECKMAN GETS U. S. POSITION

Mr. Elmer Beckman of Atchafalpa, now attending Wartburg college has received word from the Meteorology Department of the Institute of Technology at Pasadena, California that he has been approved by the Weather Bureau for an appointment as meteorologist and shall receive his appointment letter.

Mr. Beckman will receive his degree in January and will then be ready for his new work.

Season Tickets Ready for Plays

Season tickets for all four plays to be given by the Wartburg Players this current season will be on sale beginning Oct. 15. The first play of the year, a comedy, "The Curtain Rises," will be presented in the beginning of the year. The other plays will be a religious play, "The White Windmill," a comedy, "The White Windmill," and a comedy, "The White Windmill." The price of the season tickets is $1.50. With the purchase of such a ticket, a reserved seat is guaranteed for the entire season. Single admission is 35c plus 4c tax.

COSSACKS THRILL RECORD GROUP

Exiled Russians Give Folk Songs and Dances for Homecoming Crowd.

Presenting the same program that has thrilled packed audiences all over the world, the General Platform Don Cossack chorus held a record breaking audience spellbound in St. Paul's auditorium here last night. The grandeur of the singing and the brilliance of the Cossack dances will long be remembered as a stellar feature of Wartburg's Diamond Jubilee homecoming celebration. The program presented was as follows:

Program
Blessed be the Lord, P. I. Chalkovsky.
Credo, A. Gretschinnoff.
Blessed is the Name of God of our Religious Song.
That My Prayer May Arise, P. Tchemokoff.
Song of the Village Guest, Rimsky Korskoff. (Arranged for this choir, M. Freysky).
The Evening Bell, Elegy on Words by Kolkoff.
Part II.
The White Windmill, Russian Folk Song.

Departed Youth, Vorokhevitsh, Song of the Flea, Mouskougsky. (Arranged for this choir, M. Freysky).
Slavy, Russian Folk Song.
In 1808 Cossack War Song.
Legzinka, Caucasian Cossack Dance.

Part III
Waltz, Fogel.
Black Eyes, Russian Gypsy Song.
Don't Go Strolling Pretty Maidens, Through the Wood at Night, Valentinoff.
Malinka, Popular Russian Song.
Kozichok, Popular Dance of the Don Cossacks.

The gay nineties theme will not be complete without the silent movie, "The Debate club's version of the story of the nineties." The Pi Sigma skit demonstrated the change in transportation of the nineties. Instead of riding in vehicles, parts of them must be used to be repaired, as may be the case today.

"Pilot Party"
Held October 17
Is the average Wartburg Knight or Knightess physically capable of becoming a pilot in the U. S. Air corps? A humorous answer to this question was found at the "Pilot Party" the first of Wartburg's all school party of the year, held Saturday, Oct. 17.

Stunt flying and equilibrium tests were given to students and apples were awarded to each person who passed each test. Several who fainted out early in the game retired to "ground school" and prepared popcorn for refreshments.

The final of the evening was presented by the Luther League. A ball game of the Spirit of '76 and soldiers of various wars was fought by this nation. This impressive display of athletic skill was climaxed by the illuminated form of Miss Leavitt.

Fritzsche, A. Bantels, H. Kuhlman and Aug. Engelbrecht were among the new teachers added to the faculty.

The curriculum was still largely that of the German Gymnasium. The medium of instruction was still German, and even mathematics was taught in that language.

Though the quarters were somewhat more commodious than had been the case at Mendota, the conditions were still primitive and comforts few. There were a great many of the same classrooms—the same rooms served both purposes. Nor was the institution heated by a central plant; each room was equipped with a coal stove, and the ashes had to be carried up and down three stories daily.

The dormitory was right under the roof. It was equally cold in winter and hot in late spring and early fall. The washrooms were in the basement; there were no toilets.

An Historical Sketch Prepared by Dr. G. J. Neumann

In this historical article, Dr. J. G. Neumann, dean of the faculty at Wartburg, outlines the seventy-five years of the school's history.

Wartburg College is observing the Diamond Jubilee during the current school year. Following is a brief historical sketch of the college since it was established in Galena, Ill., in 1858.

Galena, 1858-75. The Synod of Iowa and other states, established in 1854, had conducted a theological seminary from the year of its organization. In the course of time a pre-theological training school came to be established at Galena, Ill., in 1858.

An abandoned newspaper, which had been purchased for a nominal sum, provided classrooms, dining hall, and living quarters for the students and the faculty and his family. In 1875 an additional structure was deemed to serve as a dining hall. The institution remained at Galena until the autumn of 1875, when it was removed to Mendota, Ill., where the theological seminary had been relocated in the preceding year.

The seminary property included a rubber spacker building which had served as a professor's residence; this house was placed at the disposal of the college. Students, twenty to thirty in number, were all housed and instructed in the building, for meals and daily chapel exercises they went over to the seminary.

The college was at this time almost exclusively preparatory school for the seminary. The curriculum was largely classical. The students were drilled well in Latin, Greek, Hebrew and German, and given instruction in religion and history.

Since there was a very close connection between the college and the seminary, it followed as a matter of course that the professors of the seminary served the same time as professors of the college; several other teachers, however, were added to the college faculty.

The discipline was strict, but the enforcement of it was handled in a spiritual and evangelical manner. The school was hardly felt as a burden but rather as a great service to the Christian institution. By and large, the students willingly submitted to it.

These were the days of small numbers, yet even in those days the institution served the purpose for which it had been founded, and rendered a great service to the church.

KNIGHTS AT FULL STRENGTH FOR EAGLES

Meet Western Union Today at Homecoming.

The Western Union Eagles are in the camp of the Wartburg Knights this Saturday to try their hand at knocking the Van Dyken team out of the union class. The game will be a feature of the Wartburg 4-day homecoming celebration, which began Thursday night with the crowning of the queen.

The Eagles have played only one conference game this far this season, tying the Beavers from Buena Vista, 0-0 on a rain-soaked field. Not much is known about their offensive and defensive strength, but the game promises to be a close affair, since Wartburg slipped by Buena Vista last Saturday.

Halfback Bob Sautter of the Knights suffered a sprained ankle in practice this week, but will be in shape for the game, which will find the Knights at full strength.

The same lineup that has started the last two conference games will undoubtedly be on the field when the initial whistle blows. The most spirited rivalry Wartburg has seen for many a day took place last night in the blazing warmth of a huge bonfire in the middle of North Field. The celebration was a success, and the team which was escorted to the field in its private limousine. With all the excitement, they also was crowned "Queen of Defeat."

The football team was escorted by Assistant Coach "Rosie" Lee, who was cheered by the crowd. Then began the torchlight parade. Sparked by the band, the torches were very few feet, went down Bremer Ave. and beat everybody with light and sound that Wartburg was ready to meet and beat the Eagles from Western Union this afternoon.

OBERNAUER BEST GAINER

Averages 5.01 Yards for Knights; Allen Gets 37.3.

"Turk" Oberbauer, hard-driving halfback of the Knights, has compiled the best average in yardage gained by running backs this season. "Turk" has averaged 5.01 yards per try, and has carried the ball 41 times in the three games already played.

Following close behind is the hustling freshman, Ed from Hampton, Iowa, Dillman "Baldy" Allen, with an average of 3.73 yards per try. Allen has carried the ball 41 times in his three games.

Only two other men on the Knight team have carried the ball for gains. They are Bob Sautter, regular right halfback, and Lawrence (Skip) Sulzer, reserve left half. Sautter has averaged 1.43 yards in carrying the ball 7 times, and Sulzer has averaged exactly 3 yards and has carried the ball only twice.

Dillman Allen has done all the punting for the Knights this season. His average for punts is 37.7

"V" FOR VICTORY IS GRIDDERS' HOMECOMING THEME

This afternoon at 2 p. m. the Wartburg Knights of the gridiron will battle it out with the Eagles from Western Union. Pictured above is the formation the Knights hope to show after the encounter. The Van Dyken will be on to uphold their unmarred record in the three games already played.

Behind the Varsity

JIM HUGHES

Here we are, riding the crest of the wave in our football campaign with three victories and no defeats. We are one of the seven teams in the United States that has the distinction of being undefeated, untied, and unscathed on. We are the only team in the state of Iowa which can say this—which all adds up to exactly what, may I ask? Here's your answer: We are proud, happy, jubilant, and care-free students here at Wartburg as a result. We are going to great extremes in getting ready for the Homecoming celebration which is in progress.

Let me review the season thus far with a few statistics concerning each game the Knights have played. First of all, we played the Wisconsin Tech team from Platteville, Wis., and by virtue of a good break which we capitalized on, we defeated them 6-0. It was a rainy, slushy field that this game game was played on, and we hesitate to measure either team's ability as a result. The Knights showed signs of a good team with their spirit and fight which they displayed.

Then we came up against Penn college and took them into camp, 19-0. What did that make us? It didn't tell us a thing as far as offense and defense go. Penn had played three games before meeting the Knights and had lost two by 39-0 and 40-0 counts. The other game was a tie, 0-0. Sure, Wartburg's defense stopped them, but with such a record, the Knights should have stopped the Quakers. Sure, we scored three touchdowns with displays of power, but Penn had been beaten by large scores already this season, which didn't speak very highly of their defense.

Then the Knights met Buena Vista at Storm Lake. One burst of offensive tactics for the Knights was the margin of victory. Outside of those six plays in the second quarter, neither team's offense was very impressive. Either the defenses were very good on both teams, or both offenses were miserably lacking in hard runners or good blocking. At any rate the Knights won 7-0, and remained unbeaten, untied, and unscathed on. It's great to look at a record like that, and be able to say you are from that school. It's great to be in the win column, and hold your heads high when you walk down town. Life is wonderful with a winning football team.

Stop right here. We are only half through. We've got to meet Western Union this afternoon. And then in quick succession we take on the Dubuque Spartans, and the Upper Iowa Peacocks. Dubuque is rated one of the strongest teams in the state, and have rolled over their opponents with apparent ease all year. Upper Iowa is our traditional rival, and this will be one of the toughest games Wartburg will have, no doubt. I'm not building any air castles about the football season here at Wartburg, and I hope you students are not either. Let's take each game as it comes, and when it's over with we can either do our talking or we can be quiet about it and go about our business, win or lose.

I'm no pessimist. I'm just trying to give you a warning that will help our gridiron Knights as much as all the yelling we can do for them. Sure, a big pep rally instills in them a spirit to fight hard, but a warm congratulation after they have played a hard game is just as nice for them as anything, and they'll want to come back for more. If we take an interest in our football team, we'll let them, with the assistance of the coaches, take care of the opponents, and we'll help along as much as we can with a lot of encouragement, and not too much bally-hoo.

KNIGHTS NIP BEAVERS FOR THIRD VICTORY

Allen to Allen Pass Means Win for Wartburg.

Statistics

First Downs	10	B.V.	8
Fumbles	4
Total yards gained	193	157
Yards gained by passes	11	65
Yards gained rushing	181	92

Dillman Allen threw a pass to his brother Edin, and that was the football game, as the Knights defeated the Buena Vista Beavers last Saturday, 7-0. The game, which was played in the rain, was above normal temperatures, was the feature of the Buena Vista victory day homecoming activities.

Every worthwhile thing that could happen in a football game, was the feature of the slow, listless contest. Families, in expectation, blocked kicks and no impressive offensive drives by either team made the game a mere tactical duel between Dillman "Baldy" Allen and Schuler of the Beavers.

Wartburg's first touchdown came early in the second period. After Buena Vista failed to gain in three plays, Hattman punted to the Beavers 40 yard line, from where it took the Knights just six plays to push over the winning 10-point lead. Dillman Allen kicked the extra point to end the scoring for the day.

Buena Vista failed to get inside the Wartburg 20 yard line all afternoon. The Beaver offense was unable to shoot about, but the Knight line stopped everything that it tried to do. Outside of the Beavers' lone touchdown, no points were made by the Knight eleven.

Incidentally, Wartburg by virtue of its perfect record thus far this season, is the only college team in the state which has not been defeated, tied or scored upon, and is one of seven in the nation.

Wartburg diners were rather astonished last week when they heard the mighty chorus of Nakward and Tesh giving a joint table prayer. Few men can imagine that it might someday be necessary to ask their children — or relatives, friends or charity — for bed and board in old age. Yet the facts are that 3 out of 4 persons over age 65 are unable to retire independently.

Thrift, good intentions and good business judgment do not necessarily spell financial success or security. It is now generally admitted that the surest means of attaining financial independence is through life insurance. Then isn't it wise to keep what you have, and add more whenever you can?
